Rob,

GLY Construction would like to thank Corporate Casework, Inc. for a job well done and a successful completion of the Valley Electric Office Building, located in Everett, Washington. The Valley Electric Office involved a great amount of PLAM work surfaces, millwork trim and cabinetry. With a tight schedule for fabrication and installation, Corporate Casework, Inc. performed to their usual high standards and finished the job on time.

As for our client, Valley Electric, they are always complimentary of the beautiful reception desk and surrounding cabinetry. Attention to detail and some in house engineering came together to create a wonderful setting for Valley's clients to enjoy as they enter the new Office Building.

Over the past couple years, GLY has engaged in other projects with Corporate Casework, Inc. and we have enjoyed those experiences as well. Most recently, Corporate Casework, Inc. completed the Washington Education Association Building located in Federal Way. Again, Corporate Casework, Inc. provided attention to detail with custom cabinetry, millwork and another reception desk.

GLY has come to expect the high level of experience, detail and craftsmanship from Corporate Casework, Inc.'s employees and we look forward to your involvement on future projects.

Sincerely,

Ryan McKinney
Project Manager
